PROTECTION TO FOREIGN PEOPLE

Federal Legislation Assuring Protection for Aliens Recommended.

By the Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 26.—Enactment of federal legislation guaranteeing more adequate protection to aliens in their treaty rights was recommended at today's session of the convention of the American Bar association by its committee on jurisprudence and law reform.

This subject is "entitled to very serious consideration in the pending congress," in the opinion of the committee. Its recommendation, according to the report, results from "various complaints that have been made to the United States by other nations that the rights of the citizens of those nations, under existing treaties, were not sufficiently protected by the laws of this country."

The proposed legislation provides that the "President be authorized to direct the attorney general, in the name and behalf of the United States, to file a bill in equity in the proper district court of the United States against any person or persons threatening to violate the rights of a citizen or subject of a foreign country, secured to such citizen or subject by treaty between the United States and such foreign country; and that this provision shall apply to acts threatened by state officers under the alleged justification of a law of the legislature of the state in which such acts are to be committed."

In cases where aliens are brought to trial in state courts for violation of state statutes, which are deemed by the president to be contrary to the rights of the defendant, the government, under the proposed law, would have power to file an intervening petition for the transfer of the action to a federal court.

The committee also suggested amplifications of the judicial code to clarify laws governing the removal of causes and advised changes in the rules of the supreme court so that lawyers would not have a journey to Washington to file motions.

By the Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 26.—Broadening of the power and improvement of the practice of the federal trade commission in order to bring about "a more satisfactory administration of justice" it was recommended in the report of the committee on commerce, trade and commercial law, presented at the convention of the American Bar association here today.

The committee recommended that the commission be empowered to investigate all breaches of anti-trust laws, and that proceedings in reference to these laws should be transferred from courts to the commission with the right to appeal from the commission to federal courts.

The report also recommended that all cases falling within the anti-trust laws should be primarily instituted before the commission.

"The federal trade commission," it continued, "having jurisdiction for the purpose of investigation, ought to be permitted not only to complete the investigation, but to enter an order in conformity with its findings subject to right of appeal."

To carry out this suggestion, the committee advocated amendments to the federal trade commission law, the Clayton act, and "all federal anti-trust laws."

The report also urged that the commission render written opinions on "at least" every new case coming before it to establish a system of law and precedent that will enable the business of the country to know what the law is on a given point.

The committee made no recommendation on a proposed amendment to the transportation act, which would make the chairmanship of the interstate commerce commission permanent instead of rotating. The report stated, however, that the committee favored such a plan.

Stressing the importance of codifying the laws of sales in interstate and foreign commerce and the law of common carriers in interstate and foreign commerce, the report stated that the committee favored the drafting of bills proposing to provide the necessary legislation.

General Barrett Favors Plan to Organize Battery of Artillery

MILITARY DEPARTMENT STATE OF OKLAHOMA

Office of the Adjutant General

OKLAHOMA CITY

Aug. 24, 1920

Mr. Shelby S. Bruce,
The Ada Evening News,
Ada, Oklahoma.

My Dear Sir:

I have your valued favor of August 16th, but was unable to answer it sooner because I have been at the camp at Fort Sill. I have always anticipated putting a first class unit of the Guard at Ada, have, in fact, taken it up in the past with citizens there but we did not get a start made at Ada until some other town had stepped in and grasped the opportunity.

I would be glad to put one of the heavy battery units of the new artillery regiments at Ada. We have Battery A of the light artillery at Wewoka and Battery B at Pittsburg. The difference between the two regiments will be that one is animal-drawn, 75M, and the other tractor-drawn, 155M. The 3 inch batteries will draw 32 animals from the Government and there will be 4 enlisted men to care for the animals and guns. The tractor drawn 6 inch batteries will furnish employment for two enlisted men. A battery of either regiment calls for one Captain, two First Lieutenants and two Second Lieutenants and either of them is a great addition to the welfare of a community.

The National Guard is the one distinct feature which a town can acquire without having to pass the hat. The Federal Government furnishes all the equipment and practically pays all of the expense, the State furnishing only the armory rent and the local community furnishing nothing but the moral support and the red-blooded Americans who constitute its enlisted and official personnel.

Of course Ada should have a unit of the Oklahoma National Guard and I will be only too glad to come out any time you can arrange a meeting of the members of the Legion and the Commercial Club of your city and point out to them the advantage of getting this organization now.

I appreciate your efforts of co-operation and desire that you give my personal respects to Editor Brown and Senator Harrison. Very sincerely yours,

CHAS. F. BARRETT
The Adjutant General

This letter was received this afternoon from Adjutant General Chas. F. Barrett of the Oklahoma National Guard. The matter was immediately taken up with Sam Schenck, secretary of the Lions Club, and arrangements will be made for the entertainment of the General and his staff in the next few days.

In the meantime, details of the affairs furthering of plans for organization will take place and all progressive citizens who are interested in this movement are requested to give this the best of support.

ALIKE AND UNLIKE

Some people are alike in what they like to read and different in what they like to wear. Some are pals in politics and enemies in business. Some agree on church matters but are opposite on civic questions. Some belong to the same class physically but differ widely mentally. Some are citizens of the same country but belong to different races. Some belong to the same lodge but follow different vocations. Some are the same in age but different in sex. Some have the same sort of talents but fall into different habits.

It is very interesting to observe the great masses of people classify themselves in the partial list of organizations and groups named above. After studying the thing for awhile one concludes that men are very much alike and unlike. o.v.m.

Lines.

The Fifth Polish army continues its work of rounding up detachments of bolsheviks in regions west of the railroad running from Madlin to Miawa. In maneuvers which resulted in the occupation of Lomza, the Poles took more than 2,000 prisoners and nine cannon.

There was strong fighting in Bielsztyk for more than 14 hours before the bolsheviks were finally ousted from that place.

Polish successes in the region of Lomza are also reported.

QUICK TIME MADE BY KANSAS WHEAT

By the Associated Press

CHAPMAN, Kans., Aug. 26.—Transformation of wheat from standing grain to hot biscuits in 55 minutes is a record established here recently by Harry Ruff, head of a local milling company. He drove into a field where a farmer was harvesting wheat with a harvester-thresher which cuts and threshes the grain in one operation and took two bushels of wheat. This he rushed to the mill where it was ground immediately, then took the flour home and Mrs. Ruff made biscuits.

From the time the grain was cut to the first bite of biscuit was 5 minutes less than an hour, including 32 minutes spent on the road.

MONTEREY, Mexico, Aug. 26.—General Jesus Guajardo, who treacherously tricked and slew the wily rebel leader, Emiliano Zapata, himself fell a victim of decimation when he was captured by government troops and executed here July 18 last. The tale of his latest and last adventure is thus told.

Thirteen months ago Guajardo, a colonel in Carranza's army, attacked a detachment of his own faction's troops, killed and wounded several of them and convinced Zapata that he had a new adherent. Then, as Zapata, greeted him in salute, he had ordered his men to fire on Zapata, and the noted rebel chief was blown out of his saddle, dead.

To reward this act, Carranza made the double dealer a general and a little over a year later he turned upon his benefactor and joined the successful revolution of Obregon and de la Huerta.

MEXICAN PAPERS STRONG FOR FAIR

Herald Texas Exposition as Great Trade Opening.

Heralded by newspapers throughout Mexico as an event of national importance, the Mexican National Exhibit at the State Fair of Texas—October 9 to 24—promises to be a revelation to those who have overlooked the art, the romance and the beautiful traditions of the land of our southern neighbors. For the exhibit will abound not only with examples of Mexico's industrial and agricultural progress, but will contain relics and works of art that will be the center of attraction to hundreds of art lovers who will visit the Fair. In fact, one of the big features of the entire State Fair program will be the band of the Estado Mayor. This band ranks high among the musical organizations of the entire world and is well known to readers of musical journals. Nearly a hundred highly trained musicians comprise this band.

From a standpoint of commerce, the papers of Mexico have devoted page after page to impress upon their readers the importance of this exhibit. It is pointed out that this is an opportunity which must not be overlooked to establish better relations with business men of the United States. A typical newspaper story devoted to this exhibit appeared in a recent issue of "Excelsior" of Mexico City. The article, in part, follows:

"The Mexican exhibition of natural and manufacturing products, to be shown in Dallas, Texas, at the State Fair this year will be more complete and interesting than any other shown in any foreign country."

"At present the Texas State Fair is one of the most important in the American Union. All producers of the United States, and merchants in general, exhibit their products, without omitting any effort to enlarge the market for their products. Every available space, where this great State Fair is going to take place, has already been taken and every indication is that this exposition will surpass all previously shown."

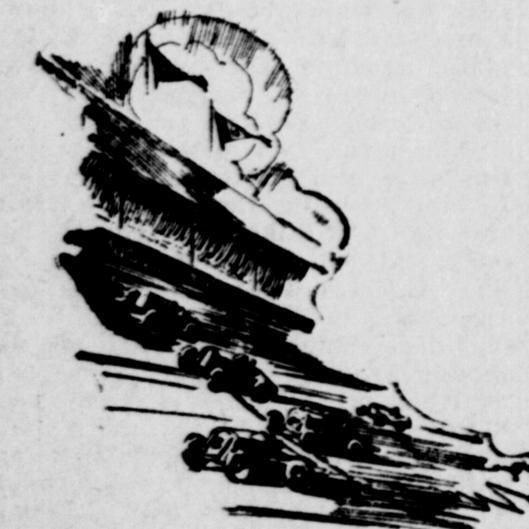

"The city of Dallas has become the large distributing center of great importance in the Southwestern section of the United States. Nearly all the leading American enterprises have branches in Dallas and transactions are conducted on the same line as at headquarters."

The paper urges that Mexico send its very best products to the Fair, paying particular attention to the art collection which will be brought here.

The importance of the exhibit to American industry can be readily seen when one realizes that it is through the medium of the Texas Jobbing house that the majority of trade will be conducted with Mexico and it is expected that this alone will bring hundreds of Eastern manufacturers and industrial heads here during the Fair.

HULA DANCERS WIN BIG PRIZES

Papeete Girls Win Prize of 1,000 Francs at Fall of the Bastile.

By News' Special Service
PAPEETE, Tahiti, July 26. (By Mail)—Dancing girls of Papeete won a prize of 1,000 francs given the hula dancers at last week's five-day celebration here of the Fall of the Bastile, the French holiday. At the celebration ancient customs of the Polynesian people were revived, the "hymenes" or folk songs were given and the natives appeared in their dances depicting adventures and romances of the south seas.

Another prize of 1,000 francs, given for the best men dancers, went to a group from the Haapape district who went through their symbolic motions of paddling one of the great war canoes and picturing the dangers met in journeying from one island to another. The men were dressed in the costumes of years ago and each carried a paddle with which he described the motions of the boat, the battle at sea, a fight with sharks and finally the landing.

Songs which originated years before the first white man sighted the islands were chanted at the celebration. There were songs of the poi poi feast, songs of kava drinking, chants of war, and love ballads of the Polynesians. People of the islands do not sing their folk songs as they do in other countries. Instead of each singing the same notes in unison, there are at least twenty different parts, ranging from a low undertone to a shrill call by the older women and light melodies by the girls.

Street parades, the like of which probably cannot be seen in any other section of the world, opened the celebration. They were led by native musicians, whose instruments were oil cans or hollowed logs, with pig skins stretched across them, and beaten in monotonous rhythm. Following the drummers came the hula dancers grouped six abreast, zig-zagging back and forth across the roads singing their feast songs.

A fest in Papeete's lagoon closed the week. The natives draped their canoes with palm branches, banana leaves and tree ferns and with torches for illumination, paddled recklessly from coral reefs to the shores, singing the native songs to the accompaniment of guitars.

LABOR PAPER AGAINST GEORGE

Breaks In With Chorus
Against Premier
Of England.

By the Associated Press
LONDON, Aug. 25.—Newspapers in commenting on the decision reached at Lusitania by Premier Lloyd George and Gilleotti, and the resulting British note to the Russian soviet government, strongly commends the position taken by the two statesmen.

"The British and Italian premiers," says the Chronicle, "are very anxious to come to an agreement with Russia, but no agreement is possible unless the Russian government removes the presumption it will not keep such an agreement in good faith."

Quoting President Wilson's note to the Italian ambassador in Washington on the Russian situation, the Morning Post declared:

"Mr. Lloyd George will now subscribe to these weighty words, after his experience with Kamenef, or the British government it is quite clear, has to choose between the initiatives and 'the ruffians of Moscow.'"

The labor organ, the Daily Herald, breaks in on the chorus of praise with an outcry against Premier Lloyd George.

EXCISE BOARD ENDS ITS LABORS

Reductions Made in Various Estimates—Tax Rate Will Be Highest Ever Known in This County.

The county excise board after an extended and tedious session has about completed its labors for the present fiscal year and is now ready to make its report. The board consists of the following county officials: Orel Busby, Wayne Wadlington, D. W. Swaffar, Milton Garner, Nick Heard, A. Floyd, and W. H. Brumley.

In going over the estimates of the various officers and departments of the county and its subdivisions the excise board applied the knife mercilessly to the estimates submitted for the boards' consideration. It made a cut of $88,416.00 in the county estimates and a cut of $18,762.00 in the estimates of the City of Ada. The following are the estimates submitted by the various county offices and departments and the amounts granted to each by the board:

	Estimate Asked	Estimate Approved
County Attorney	$ 6,120.00	$ 4,490.00
Sheriff	17,681.00	13,975.00
Constables	500.00	500.00

County Road Construction	111,200.00	46,100.00
Separate Schools	2,775.00	2,775.00
State Highway	4,500.00	4,350.00
County Road Maintenance	7,850.00	7,850.00

The total revenue to be raised from sources other than from ad valorem taxation will amount to $113,334.00. Ad valorem taxes will amount to $163,652.00. The taxable valuation of the county is $17,571,632.00.

The board found it necessary to cut the estimate of the City of Ada approximately 25 per cent in order to keep the expenditures within the amount that it is possible to raise under the law. The tax valuation of the city is given as $4,392,158.00.

Even after the reductions made by the excise board the tax rate for the current year will be the highest ever known in Pontotoc County. The county tax rate will be 9.3 mills as compared with 6.6 mills for last year. The city rate will be 20 mills as against 15.8 for last year. The rate in the Ada school district will be 19.2 mills. Thus the total will be 48.5 mills, not counting the state tax, which has not yet been levied, but which cannot exceed 3.5 mills.

It is the opinion of the excise board that the tax rate will be the highest ever known in the state.

OKLAHOMA CROPS BEST IN COUNTRY

Kansas Is Ranked Second in Predictions by C. H. Howard.

Oklahoma ranks first in prospects for 1920 crops and Kansas second, according to the weekly crop report of C. H. Howard of the Exchange Trust company. Mr. Howard says that the crop conditions in Oklahoma this week are as good as could be expected. There have been good rains over practically every bit of the state, which has placed the ground in excellent shape for plowing for the seeding of wheat in September and October.

The amount of acreage to fall seed is expected to be very heavy this year.

Corn is practically matured and Oklahoma has produced the best corn crop in the history of the state.

Alfalfa in many sections is ready for the fourth cutting. Mr. Howard says this is the banner alfalfa year during the last decade.

Prairie hay has been excellent and has been put up in good shape in most places. The shortage of bailing wire has caused many farmers to put their hay up in stacks.

Wheat and oats are gradually going on the market from day to day, but in limited amounts owing to inadequate transportation facilities.

The cotton crop is the most promising in the history of the country. Very little damage up to date has been done by the boll worm. Mr. Howard says that the cotton in the bottom land is very rank and for the next three of four weeks there will be considerable uneasiness in those sections because there is danger of devastation by the boll worm, as there has been lots of rain and the cotton is luxuriant and tender. The cool nights also make it dangerous. It has been estimated that if there is no heavy damage by the boll worms, Oklahoma will produce 1,250,000 bales of Cotton. Oklahoma is rated first among all the states in the United States as to prospects for cotton, as well as other crops for 1920.—Tulsa World.

Every Flower Has a Story All Its Own

The Lily.
The beautiful lily is symbolic of purity and majesty.

It is dedicated to Easter, the festival of flowers.

The ancients consecrated it to Juno and held this flower in high esteem. The Hebrews used the lily motif extensively in the architecture of the temple of Solomon, and it is mentioned frequently in the Old Testament.

Will Bring Strength.
A superstition says that if one picks the first lily one sees, it will bring great strength and faith. Another superstition is that if a girl picks a red lily she will become freckled. To test the love of her sweetheart, another tradition says, a girl should plant a lily bulb and with it bury the name of her lover. As the plant grows strong and straight, or weak and indifferent, so will her sweetheart's love be.

The ancients believed it to have many medicinal properties. It was used as an antidote against snake bites and poison and a hair restorative was made from the roots, boiled in olive oil.

Not only as medicine was this plant used, but the eastern countries have always utilized the roots and stalks of the plant as food.

Greek Legend.

A Greek legend tells of the origin of the lily. Jupiter was desirous that his son, Hercules, should be immortal and rank with other gods. So he ordered Somnus, the god of slumber, to procure a sleeping potion, disguised as nectar, which was given to Juno.

She fell asleep immediately and Jupiter placed the infant at her breast so that he could imbibe the celestial nourishment which would make him immortal. However, a few drops fell to the earth and majestic white flowers sprang up, which are known as lilies.

Stock Market

Choice Cattle Steady; Others Lower. Lambs Higher; Hogs Lower. KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS, Aug. 23—Cattle receipts today were the largest of the season, and prices for grass fat grades fed kings, and some classes of feeders were lower. Good fed cattle and choice wintered and best grassers were steady. Fed steers sold up to $16.60. Hog prices averaged 10 cents lower, top $15.10. Lambs were in active demand and 25 to 50 cents higher, top Utahs $12.50.

Today's Receipts.

Receipts today were 24,000 cattle, 8,000 hogs and 8,000 sheep, compared with 23,000 cattle, 7,000 hogs, and 12,000 sheep a week ago, and 39,300 cattle, 6,500 hogs, and 20,700 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle.

The bulk of the cattle here today were grass fat steers from Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Nebraska. The best were quoted steady and the others 15 to 25 cents lower. Prices for medium kinds reached the lowest position of the year. Good to choice fed, and wintered steers were scarce and fully steady. Fed steers sold up to $16.60 and wintered steers up to $14.50. Top for grass fat steers was $13.50. Cows and heifers were steady to 15 cents lower. "Canners" and bulls were steady. Veal calves were steady, top $13.50.

Stockers and Feeders.

Demand for thin cattle was fairly active, with prices about the same as a week ago. A good many feeder buyers are here and they want 850 to 950 pound steers, not too fat and with quality. There is a wide price spread in stockers and demand is rather erratic. Stock cows, heifers and calves are selling freely.

Hogs.

Hogs came in for another general decline today, and the market was the lowest for some time past. The 15 cent quotation is near the vanishing point. Here prices were mostly 10 cents lower, extremes steady to 15 cents lower. The top price was $15.10, and bulk of sales $14.60 to $15.10. Pigs were in active demand and fully steady, selling up to $15.00. More pigs could have been sold without disturbing prices.

Sheep and Lambs.

Lamb prices which were depressed to a new low point for the season last week, rallied 25 to 50 cents today and sheep and feeders were stronger. Most of the western lambs sold at $11.75 to $12.50, feeders up to $12.00. The range movement this fall will not be as large as last fall.

Horses and Mules.

Trade in the horse division is active on all classes that show good condition and some quality. Thin grades and pluggy kinds are lower and hard to sell.—Charles M. Pipkin, Market Correspondent.

DEMOCRACY AND THE FARMER

Every farmer will this year vote as he pleases. He always has done so and always should do so. But the farmer like every other citizen ought to think of politics in terms of his own business interests, and before casting a ballot to repudiate a national democratic administration he ought to figure out just what that administration has done for him.

Eight years ago or a little less the curtain went down on republican ascendancy in the United States. Sixteen years of republican rule had come to a stormy close. We of Oklahoma have some very painful recollections of that era and can recall with the utmost ease the financial condition of Oklahoma farmers at that time. We doubt if our farming population can ever entirely forget the grueling days when republicans sat in the seats of the mighty at Washington and everything except interest rates and taxes were cheap as dirt.

Eight years ago farming and slavery were almost kindred terms. It was a time when agricultural products were so cheap that the most thrifty farmer had to hustle to win the bare necessities of life. Thousands of the most thrifty didn't have a single dollar to show for their year's labor when that year came to its discouraging close. Tens of thousands of honest and industrious farmers had all but lost hope and the spectre of hunger and penury was abroad in the land. The richest river lands of Oklahoma would hardly support the men who cultivated them because of the dirt cheap prices paid in the open market for what the farmer produced.

Eight years ago you could drive through an entire town ship in Oklahoma and fail to find a single residence that was really fit to stable cattle in. Because of inadequate prices the tenant was not able to buy the land; because of inadequate returns on his investment the land owner was not able to improve his land. On every farm could be found the one-room shack, free of porch or window screens, the roof leaking and the walls letting in the frigid winds of winter. The footprints of poverty and destitution were visible on every farmstead.

Eight years ago the Oklahoma farmer would sell his year's products and then visit his banker. He would enter the banker's presence much as the old time school boy went into the presence of the old time school master. He went in to tell of low prices that made it imperative that his mortgage be renewed for another year. The banker dreaded to see him coming, because of the story of need and misfortune that the farmer was sure to tell. After an hour's petitioning the farmer might get the banker's promise that the mortgage would be renewed, but only a small part of the prior loan would be advanced for the next year's accommodation.

The farmer of eight years ago remembers the feeling of blue discouragement and humiliation that depressed his soul as he left the bank and went back to the home in the black jacks or among the hills.

But with the passing of republican rule at Washington the financial clouds began to pass from the agricultural skies of Oklahoma. We have seen the changes wrought by the past eight years. We have seen thousands of farmers become the owners of their homes. We have seen hundreds of farmers pay for their homes with the proceeds of one year of labor. We have seen the prices of agricultural products creep up from the zero mark of 1912 to the unprecedented figure of 1919 and 1920.

We have seen the old one-room shacks disappear one by one and comfortable homes take their places. We have seen the old pen of poles give place to the ample barn. We have seen the banker leave his desk and go outside his door to urge the farmer to call and get acquainted. We have seen the harried look pass entirely from the face of the man who tills the soil.

We have seen the era of forty per cent money pass away. We have seen a state law enacted by democrats and a national rule enforced by a democratic official placing a legal inhibition on usurious charges. We have seen the Federal Reserve law enacted and vitalized by a democratic congress, increasing the volume of currency and making money easier in every part of the United States. No greater change has ever been wrought in the history of this republic than has been wrought in the centers of agriculture during the past eight years.

Many men are fond of saying, many men are paid to say, that the prosperity that has come to the farmer is due entirely to the ravages of war. But these inspired preachers of political fallacies have not yet explained to the American farmer why the United States alone of all the nations has been visited by this wave of prosperity. They may have a year and a day to explain to the farmer why the only great nation in Christendom made prosperous during the war is the only nation in Christendom having the Federal Reserve law.

The attention of the Oklahoma farmer is respectfully directed to the avowed intention of the Republican party to amend the Federal Reserve Act and to "get" John Skelton

Williams, whose order terminated forty per cent interest rates in the United States. His attention is also directed to the promise of Senator Capper to reduce the price of cotton "to a decent figure" if the republicans succeed in carrying the country. If he wants to go back to the conditions that cursed Oklahoma eight years ago, he should by all means vote the republican ticket.

Up in Ottawa county a man named Shipley ran for county assessor in the recent primary and after a spirited contest was defeated by a lady named Neff. Now Shipley has filed a contest and alleging that his fair opponent was the beneficiary of wholesale frauds, is employing legal procedure to obtain a nomination that was denied him at the polls. Goodbye Shipley. A man who can't take a licking, especially from a woman, is of few days in Oklahoma politics.

A year and a day at Leavenworth would help to sober every soul dissatisfied with America. But a year and a day in Bolshevik Russia would effect a permanent cure. Instead of locking up the dissatisfied in Leavenworth cell, why not have them do their time in the interior of Russia? It would give them what they think they want and make them more reconciled to living in the good old U. S. A.

Local Pythians

The Knights of Pythias of Ada are making an effort to revive their lodge in Ada and give it new life. L. A. Westlake of Blackwell, former Grand Chancellor of the order, is in Ada today interviewing members of the order and investigating the situation here with a view of reviving the lodge.

At one time the Knights of Pythias had a live organization in Ada. For some reason interest was lost in the work and the order was permitted to run down. There are quite a number of Pythians in the city and it is believed that a strong lodge may be developed in the immediate future. Mr. Westlake is very much encouraged over the outlook.

Big Department Store Will Stage Bargain Feast Friday and Saturday.

One of Ada's leading department stores will hold the first exclusive Dollar Day event Friday and Saturday of this week.

This is to be the first event of this nature attempted in Ada and much credit for its success must be given Langford Shaw, the store's advertising manager. Mr. Shaw is very efficient in this work as noted by the daily advertisements that are written by him for this paper.

Mr. Shaw has put in much time on the arrangement of goods for this event and has carefully marked all prices of merchandise which can be sold for $1 on these dates. A complete showing of seasonable goods are offered in this sale that formerly sold for twice the amount asked. This plan will clean up all odds and ends in the store and give the people of this section the chance to secure good merchandise at reasonable prices.

Mr. Shaw is the originator of the Style Show, which is to be held here in September. This plan is original and is going to be the biggest event which local merchants have staged in the history of better merchandising for Ada. These plans are good and the success of this affair is assured as the majority of Ada's leading merchants are backing this movement and will leave nothing undone to make this event very elaborate and furnish entertainment for the people who visit the stores.

Mr. Shaw is a young man of rare business ability and his future is seemingly very promising. He has just returned from school and has taken up the work in the Shaw Store, which is owned by his father. His ideas are clever and original and The News wishes for him the best of good wishes for a continued successful business career as heretofore.

To Citizens of Ada

During the last few weeks the Citizens of Ada have been called upon by representatives of the Reciprocals, Inter-insurers, and Mutual Insurance Companies, telling them of their wonderful saving proposition. This kind of Insurance is one of the things which is beautiful in theory but works out very poorly in actual practice. It is weakest when it needs to be strongest. When the inevitable run of fires comes, mutual insurance is apt to be a house of sand. If a member can pull out when he likes, he quits as soon as the game begins to go against him, leaving the loss claimants in the lurch.

Most business men want to know what a thing is going to cost before they enter upon its purchase. In stock insurance the premium is fixed, and that settles it. In mutual insurance it may cost a member everything he has, if many of the others pull out or prove to be judgment proof.

The favorite claim of these companies and one upon which they depend most for success in deluding members, is that the liability of policy holders is limited to the amount of their premiums. This is a false pretense for whatever may be expressed in the contract, the courts have time and again ruled that mutual fire companies cannot limit the liability of a member. By-laws to the contrary have repeatedly been declared invalid by the courts.

You buy insurance to get rid of liability, not to pay a premium to retain your own liability and also assume the liabilities of others as well, which is what you do as long as you insure with Mutual Insurance Companies.

This is the oldest Insurance Agency in Pontotoc County. We have always paid our losses promptly without hesitation or question. All members of this firm are loyal supporters and patrons of the local merchants; we buy our clothing from Ada merchants; cook our food on Direct Action Ranges and if any merchant in Ada will find an article from Sears and Roebuck, or any other mail order house in our houses we will confess judgment and advise our friends to assume the liability of doing business with strangers and companies whose responsibilities are unknown and questionable.

MAJOR KITCHENS ADDRESSES PEOPLE

To the People of Ada:

The county excise board has just refused to grant my department the appropriations necessary for the present fiscal year and has cut my estimate to the point where an efficient administration of the mayor's department for the year will be impossible.

Knowing that the people expect efficient government, as they have the right to expect, and knowing that I must bear the criticism for any lack of efficiency, I feel that it is my duty both to the public and myself to make this statement in order that the people of Ada may know what to expect and who is to blame. I want the public to know that we cannot possibly have efficient government for the reason that the excise board by cutting my estimate of needs to pieces has made it impossible to have efficient government.

I asked for an appropriation sufficient to pay the city policemen $125 a month. It is impossible to get good men and keep them for less. But the excise board has provided a sum sufficient to pay the policemen only $100 a month. Under this low figure it will not be a question of getting the best men to do the work—it becomes a question of getting any men at all. I asked for $100 a month for the sanitary policeman, which is little enough in this day of high prices, but the excise board has allowed me only $85 a month. No man can work and keep a team and support a family on this salary—it is nonsense to think of it.

I asked for an appropriation for a motor cycle and to hire a motor cycle man in order that we may be able to run down the speeders on the streets of the city and stop violations of the speeding regulations, but the excise board refused to give me this very necessary appropriation. It also refused my request for an appropriation to pay for an automobile for use in the police department, something that we badly need and something they have in every other city as large as Ada. These appropriations are vital to law enforcement in Ada, and our future to get them makes it impossible to enforce the law in a satisfactory way.

The excise board cannot justify their action on the plea of economy for my department is the only one they cut to pieces. The other departments were given practically everything they asked for and several of their men received substantial increases in salary. The salary of the repair man in the water department was increased from $100 to $125 and the salary of the sexton at the cemetery was increased from $85 to $125. It is worse than foolish to say that the city is financially able to pay the men in my department a living wage when the salaries of men in other departments are raised in a substantial way.

If the law is not enforced as it should be and if the city is not run as it should be, do not blame me. If drunkenness and crap shooting flourishes unmolested do not blame me. If joy riders take possession of our streets and the weeds grow up to the house tops, do not blame me. I am not to blame. I figured out to a dollar what it would take to enforce the law and govern the city properly and asked for sufficient money for those purposes, but the excise board on their own motion denied me the money needed and the excise board alone is to blame.

I feel that it is my duty to give the people of Ada this information. Respectfully,

GARY KITCHENS,
Mayor City of Ada.

Capitalizing the Legion Efficiency In Pontotoc Co.

With the growth of legion membership throughout the United States the problems of efficient administration have become more complex. In most of the state departments it has been found advisable to have one or more persons devote full time to the work of state headquarters and to pay salaries.

It is unfair to place heavy burdens on the shoulders of volunteer workers, when the strength of the state organization is such that funds may be provided to support an efficient headquarters staff. Moreover it usually does not tend toward efficiency. Economy may prove expensive if a large membership is compelled to rely on the part time efforts of officers for expeditious attention to the needs of the department. It has been found out that full time salaries personnel at state headquarters furnish a constant flow of ideas to all the posts.

A department which makes a wise investment in providing itself with an efficient staff will more than receive full interest on the financial expenditure involved. Are you doing your part, Norman Howard Post No. 72?

Mrs. William Gilbert left yesterday for Carthage, Missouri where a family reunion of her folks will be held. Mr. Gilbert will leave Sunday to join the reunion on the "chords," he puts it.

Mrs. Alice Egan departed yesterday afternoon to visit her brother in Detroit, Michigan. She will be remembered as running the Normal cafeteria this summer. She states that she will open the cafeteria at the college again this fall upon her return.

Pontotoc County Will Surpass All Previous Efforts

The people of Pontotoc county look upon the Pontotoc County Free Fair as the big event of the year. Incidentally, thousands of other people in adjoining counties and over the state generally regard it in the same light, for the fair offers just one more inducement to visit the county capital and see there assembled in the county free fair grounds farm exhibits that cannot be equalled anywhere in the southwest. The people of Pontotoc county and Ada in particular realize that there is no more attractive little city in all the state of Oklahoma than Ada. The citizens of Ada see to it that visitors are properly cared for, not only during the rush but throughout the year when they choose to visit the place.

Certainly there will be an abundance of fun and frolic, bright lights and music, but there will also be features that will educate and benefit. There will be many attractions. The agricultural exhibit this year is expected to be a revelation to those who are not perfectly familiar with just what Pontotoc county is producing this year. There is the magnificent poultry show, the big stock exhibit, fine works of art, the culinary department, and many other interesting and attractive features are in prospect for the event.

Colored Couple Fined and Jailed On Liquor Charge

Grayson Seely was in the mayor's court this morning on a drunkenness count. It is alleged in police court circles that Grayson got full of hooch and proceeded to act wobbly in public places. He was assessed $8.75 but having exhausted his money in floating a booze transaction he was unable to cough up and was remanded to the city jug.

Will Wren was back in police court today, this time on a choc charge. He was given the regulation $24.75 assessment, and in default of payment is lodging at the Hotel de Gotcher.

McSwain.

Viola Dana has the most important drama of her starring career in "Dangerous to Men," which is announced as the feature at the McSwain theatre today. The screen play is an adaptation by A. P. Younger of the famous English drama, "Eliza Comes to Stay," which was produced in London with the author, H. V. Esmond, and his wife, Eva Moore, in the leading roles, and which scored one of the biggest successes of the modern English stage.

The role of Eliza taxes to the full Viola Dana's versatile powers as a comedienne, picturing the development of a tomboy school girl who finds herself at eighteen thrust into a bachelor's household as his ward, there to discover her own seductive charm and how it makes her regarded as a dangerous woman. It is said to be Miss Dana's favorite role.

The question of women's clothes is brought prominently into the story. Eliza, the daughter of an eccentric explorer, has been brought up by a spinster aunt, who insists that the girl dress to be "safe" from men. Eliza's precautions are so excessive that she becomes an object of ridicule at school and has to fight her way when the boys tease her.

By her father's death in an expedition to Afghanistan, she is left an orphan with a young bachelor scientist as her guardian, but, although she loves him, her dowdy appearance gets his nerves on edge. It's then Eliza realizes the need of dressing in a way to bring out her own charm, but her attempts to emulate the style of an experienced actress whom she takes as her model are pathetic.

We play the pictures.

ROYAL FAMILY PITY TRAVELERS

Tired And Weary Tourists
Find Time Hangs
Heavy.

BUDAPEST, Aug. 25.—The desire but inability of once wealthy people to travel westward to European seaports and on to the United States, owing to passport and money difficulties, is one of the results of the war to be noted in central Europe, the Balkans and far into Asia Minor.

The instances of this desire were registered recently by Admiral Horthy, regent of Hungary, who said: "Why, I wake up nights thinking of the sea, and in my dreams I hear the sound of the ocean. Consider I have sailed the world around and now I can't even get a glimpse of blue water. I'm sick in a new sense."

"How I envy you in your travels," said Queen Marie of Rumania to the travel-weary correspondent. "Think of the glorious freedom of going somewhere, far away."

"If it were not for my duty to my country," said Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the national leader one hot, breathless night in Sivas, Turkey, "I would be tempted to board ship and steam away, anywhere, so long as it went westward. No one ourselves can realize how tired and numb the mind becomes, out here, through the loss of contact with countries and people we knew in happier days."

Women, wives of teachers and professors, of formerly well-to-do farmers, who have been so sorely hit by the war, suffer especially from the lack of the cheap holidays, they were once accustomed to take in Switzerland, the Italian Riviera, Paris or London, where they saw the old sights anew, the styles in clothes, brushed up their acquaintance with languages and came home content to await next year's trip.

"I really believe many of us shall fall sick if we are not able to satisfy this travel fever," said Mrs. R. Vambery, wife of the Hungarian criminologist, who was a great traveller as was his father before him.

"Have pity on we poor travellers. To think that now I can't buy new dress. I once had the money to roam where I would."

The ministers of foreign affairs in these countries are besieged by applications of their fellow citizens who want to go away as diplomatic representatives or counsuls and many near-important men at home are willing to accept positions as clerks abroad, merely for the chance of traveling.

This fever is not limited to the formerly well-to-do. Recently a notice was published in a Budapest paper that any able-bodied man or woman wishing to work in the United States would be furnished with a ticket and $50 expense money by the Americans. That same day the American High Commissioner, U. Grant Smith, had to request the military authorities to keep away the mob from his office in the Andrassy street.

The railways in Hungary, in Rumania and in every country, though worn out by the war, are always crowded, with people clinging to the roofs of the coaches, thick as flies, summer and winter. About the stations are big crowds of men, women and children, swarming up and down, waiting whole days and nights for trains.

"Where are all these people going to?" the correspondent asked a conductor at Bucharest.

He stammered in astonishment. "Why, anywhere, nowhere," he answered. "They are just taking a ride. They're travel mad."

From Dr. Patterson.
Winona Lake, Ind., 8-23-20.
The Ada Evening News,
Ada, Okla.

Dear friends at home:

Our vacation is nearing an end and we will soon turn our car homeward. We have had and are still having a very pleasant vacation.

We left Ada on July 31, and drove to Tulsa that day. We spent Sunday and till Monday noon with Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Gordon. From there we drove to Wyandott Monday night, where we camped on the school grounds. We found it very cold, so much so that we were quite uncomfortable. Tuesday, August 3, we drove to Galena, Mo., on the James river, about 25 miles from Branson and Hollister, and would have gone on, but found the roads so rough we decided to turn back.

After camping for a day and night on the James river we headed out for Indiana. It was Thursday afternoon when we left Galena. We arrived at Delphi, Ind., the following Monday evening. Delphi is where we used to live and we spent 10 days there with great pleasure and delight with our old friends.

We found very good roads all the way with the exception of one half day's drive in Missouri east of Springfield which were rocky, and also about 50 miles in southern Illinois where the roads were rutted badly and very dusty.

We took a little side trip with some friends from Delphi to Mammoth Cave and the Great Onyx Cave. There is no need to comment on the Mammoth Cave. It is so well known. But the Great Onyx Cave is even a greater wonder, so far as formations are concerned than the Mammoth Cave. But either of these caves are worth crossing the continent to see.

We came to Winona Lake on Thursday, August 19. We were fortunate in arriving on that day for we found that Madam Galli-Curci was giving a concert that night. We heard her with great delight. Her performance was wonderful, but her appearance as to costume deserves no compliment whatsoever.

The great Winona Bible conference opened Friday, August 20. It has been going on now four days and will close next Sunday night.

Its program is one of the best it has ever had. The personnel of the program are in part, as follows: Mel Trotter of Detroit, Dr. Charles H. Woolston, Philadelphia, Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, London, Lyell Rader, Chicago; Dr. Samuel Chadwick, London; Billie Sunday, Frank J. Cannon, Bishop Fant, Bob Jones, Sam Small and others.

It was a great satisfaction to receive a couple of dozen numbers of the Ada News upon arriving at Winona Lake. It was a special delight to know that Oklahoma still remains American, as proven by her choice in national congress representative. May the time soon come when no man or woman can hold public office or trust in any American institution who is not wholly American in all that Americanism stands for. True Americanism and real Christianity are the real keynotes sounded in all the meetings of this great conference.

The only thing that keeps us from having complete satisfaction and joy in the privileges of these days here at Winona Lake, is the fact that all our friends there cannot hear these great men and profit by these mighty truths.

We will leave here in our Buick Thursday or Friday and stop again at Delphi over Sunday and then start the homeward journey Monday, August 30, expecting to reach Ada about Friday night or Saturday. Please send no more of my papers here after receiving this letter.

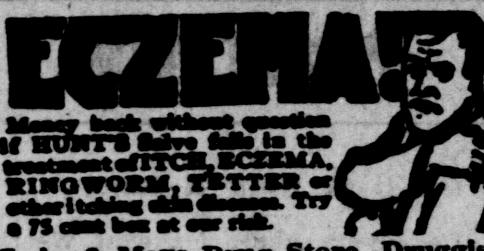

Very cordially,
N. P. PATTERSON.

CONFIDENCE is the FIRST LAW OF TRADE

A NEW YORK export broker, sitting in a little downtown office, buys and sells millions of dollars worth of goods he never sees. Yet the merchandise is always satisfactory. An automobile dealer buys six million dollars worth of cars of a new make he has never ridden in. Why? Because he has confidence in the manufacturer.

Confidence is the first law of trade. It is also the greatest single asset of a farm paper. Without this confidence its readers would not believe the editorial matter or the advertising it prints.

The Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman has earned the confidence of the farmers of Oklahoma by building an editorial staff of practical farm experts, headed by Carl Williams, who devote all of their time to studying and writing about Oklahoma farm conditions. These specialists solve the farmers' problems, point out improved farming methods, advocate better living conditions, show the farmer how to produce and market his crops and livestock more profitably.

Because of confidence in the honesty of its service, more than 100,000 farmers in Oklahoma read The Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman, and believe in its editorial and advertising columns. Building on this confidence, the manufacturer who has goods to sell the farmer places his advertising in The Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman where it will influence the farmer to patronize his local merchant.

Mr. Merchant, when a salesman tells you his goods will be advertised in the Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman, that is merely another way he has of assuring you of quicker, easier sales and increased profits. Insist on handling merchandise advertised in Oklahoma's favorite farm paper, The Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman.

Chautauqua Presents Scotch Highlanders and Tolstoy Yesterday

The people who went to the Chautauqua yesterday were delighted in the first part by the entertaining program of the Scotch Highlanders. The audience could not help but breathe the air of Scotland during the performance. A number of Harry Lauder's well known songs were appreciated by the audience. These, together with the costuming, made all that was necessary to give the Scotch color to the entertainment.

Last, and as many times not least, Count Tolstoy gave a truly interesting lecture on "The Truth About Russia."

Count Tolstoy depicted the deplorable condition of the very large country of Russia. Food is almost unobtainable and many are starving to death. The count stated that those who were unable to steal and rob were starving. Among this list of starving are some from the best class in Russia. Many of the poets and thinkers of that country are dead.

The Bolsheviks have the reigns of government. This sect, it is stated, was born in 1903 at a European conference. They believe in the state controlling everything. They are forcing the factories of their country to run against the will of the owners. They have everything in common, so to speak. Each man is forced to do as those in authority tell him to do.

This communistic party came into power after Russia went to pieces in the war because they were the only organized people in Russia. They were, also, backed by the army that was in revolt because they did not have enough food and supplies. Furthermore, the Russian soldiers knew almost nothing about what they were fighting for in the war and were naturally willing to try anything for a chance.

As to money, County Tolstoy stated that the country is flooded with it. The Bolshevik government thought that plenty of paper and a printing press were all the necessary things needed in making money. They forgot that the stamp on the piece of paper must stand for something or else it is of no value.

The Count said that a pound of butter in Russia was worth $1,200. in Russian currency. Other things are in proportion. In fact, when one goes to market there he must carry one or two baskets of so-called "money" with them.

Count Tolstoy is against war of all types and descriptions. He is thoroughly of the belief that war is evil and that the practice of evil can never result in good.

The speaker gave a very interesting reference to his father who searched many years to find the truth about God. He first found out that there was a God and then struggled and found the will of that God.

Tolstoy stated that we might not hope for immediate betterment of Russia. He said, however, that the Bolsheviks could never have a stable government as their theories would never solve the great problems of his country. Also, he gave out the fact that only 15 per cent of the people were Bolsheviks and the other 85 per cent, composed largely of industrious, God loving peasants would soon bring an end to the blight of Bolshevism.

GOVERNOR WOULD CHANGE STATE LAWS

By the News Special Service. OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 26.—Governor Robertson is going to ask the next legislature for at least two important measures that will have to do with criminology. One statute will deal separately with the indeterminate sentence of persons convicted, and another will have to do with the habitual criminal, the person who is apparently bent on violating the laws.

The indeterminate sentence law will, if containing all provisions the governor desires, eliminate many things now having to do with sentencing convicted persons, and also will practically put the matter of paroling prisoners into the hands of the warden of the state prison, where, in the opinion of the governor, it should be.

In the matter of the indeterminate sentence, it is pointed out, a minimum and maximum term should be prescribed by law. For instance, if a person is convicted of a crime that called for from two to ten years, the person would be sent to the penitentiary. This would do away with the court sentencing the man, or the attorneys agreeing for anyone to plead guilty on the promise that they will secure a parole later for the man.

At the end of the two years, or any minimum term, the warden of the penitentiary would be the best judge as to whether or not the person was entitled to be paroled. The prisoner's record and the warden's recommendation to the governor would be sufficient to decide if the man should be paroled and if a favorable report was made the parole could be given without the aid of an attorney, as is too many times the case. This plan, Governor Robertson thinks, would be an improvement over the present method and would eliminate cause for much of the criticism that is from time to time directed to the chief executive in such matters.

The habitual criminal law would have a great influence in preventing crime, in the opinion of the governor. For the first offense the man would serve his time much after the plan of the indeterminate sentence law. It would depend altogether on the nature of the crime, and the penalty that goes with it.

But where a person was put to trial for a second crime or violated the criminal statutes a second time, then he should be tried as a habitual criminal, and if convicted, given a term that would properly expiate the offense. If brought back again on third offense he should, if convicted, be given a life sentence, because by this time his habitual inclination to crime would be established beyond a reasonable doubt. The penitentiary would be the only proper place for the man, in the opinion of the governor.

POULTRY EXHIBIT TO BE GREATER THAN EVER

The poultry exhibit of the Pontotoc County Free Fair will attract the attention of the people more this year than ever before in the history of Pontotoc county. At previous fairs the exhibit was good; but just recently the poultry men of Pontotoc county have introduced the very best and highest breeds of poultry and the poultry shows held in Ada is evidence of the fact that this year will witness the greatest aggregation of pure-bred poultry in this section of Oklahoma. Competition is open to all breeders of high-class birds and competition in this line will be extremely keen. The man who will be in charge of this great department of the fair will be glad to have you enter your poultry of class and will render you every assistance within his power to make a good showing.

Be a Free Fair Booster For Pontotoc County

A committee has been appointed on decoration, which will visit each and every business establishment in the city of Ada and ask that the places of business be decorated for the First Annual Free Fair. There will be a more elaborate display of flags and bunting this year than ever before. Every business house in Ada will be wearing its new dress especially appropriate for the occasion. An appearance will be presented that will remind many of us of some good old Fourth of July celebration; like they used to have long time ago. They're going to hang out the flag and spread out the bunting. Many of the residences will be decorated for the occasion and this should be encouraged throughout the city. The business district will be a blaze with the national colors. The lights will be turned on to their brightest, and everybody will be singing the praises of the Pontotoc County Free Fair. Giddap!

IN
"MISS HOBBS"

I DESPISE MEN!—So said Miss Hobbs to all wooers and she had plenty of them, because she was amazingly pretty. And not only did Miss Hobbs reject all the supplications of the opposite sex, but she persuaded her girl friends to frown on the attentions of courtship boys. She made these friends join her in her hobbies, such as barefoot dancing on the dewy grass at daybreak, and so thought to keep their minds off their ex-acquaintances. Can you imagine a youth making a wager he could win the love of a GIRL LIKE THAT? It doesn't seem possible any man would take such a chance, but this one was a dare devil! How far did he get with the courtship? You may imagine, but to know you must see WANDA HAWLEY in "MISS HOBBS."
